The Challenge

Lil' Drug Store needed to downsize its operations and had idle equipment that needed to be liquidated fast. They needed to get the equipment out of the building quickly and to sell them at fair market prices. At the time they hired SIGMA for the job, they only had 6 weeks to be out of the building.

The Solution

SIGMA Auction deployed a team within a week to begin the auction process. SIGMA outsourced a rigging team who could ensure the equipment was removed before the deadline. Marketing began the same week the information was collected on the equipment for sale.

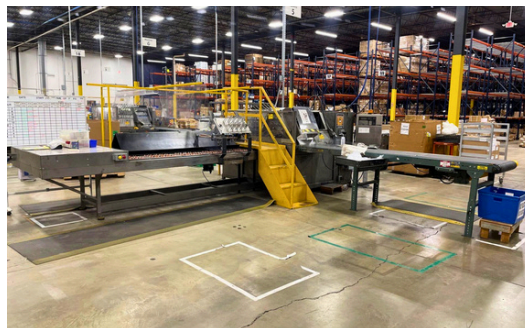

The Results

The short notice auction was successful and demonstrated the speed at which SIGMA Auction can put together and execute an auction. Although the auction process was quick, the fast marketing efforts paid off. The assets sold at fair market value and the seller was pleased with the result.
